Coeds' Hemlines Soar

lemlines have climbed to new ghts. A survey of 1,073 hemes taken between 9:45 and 10 n. Wednesday proved very realing.

The results showed 51.7% of the nlines judged at least one-half h above the kneecap. In preus studies taken in the fall of 6 and 1967, hemlines were conered above the kneecap on 33% l 41% of the coeds in those ars.

ll surveys were taken at the ne time of day and in compare temperatures. Each of the veys tallied slightly more than 0 females at six locations on npus.

Jsing the definition of a minirt as being a hemline at least ıches above the kneecap, 14.2% the girls appeared to be clad the popularized short skirt.

In the two earlier studies there was no neglible percentage of mini-skirts.

MINI OUT

Why the mini has been making its appearance on the BYU campus can only be guessed. Many would believe the Church's implied standard of "cover the kneecap" would have discouraged the use of the mini.

Through much of the school year the infamous "Pardon Me" card was used to remind students of the school standard which does not condone hemlines which sway above the kneecap.

When coeds were asked why they went against the standards many felt the main problem was the dress stores. "They only sell the really shorts," said one coed from California.

The merchants only sell what the buyers demand, they say. Local merchants order much of their merchandise from Los Angeles, New York and Chicago. None of these cities have the Provo market in mind.

However many of the BYU girls feel it is just "fun" to wear the shorter skirts and perhaps there is no real difference in Provo.

IN STYLE

A check at the BYU Bookstore by Daily Universe staff members showed the skirts to be as short as the current fashions dictate. "One of them in my own size came half way up my thigh," exclaimed a miss from Ventura, Calif.

The pressure of fashion seems to be stronger than the influence of BYU or Church standards or maybe it is just the power of the warm rays of sun

This announcement was made yesterday by ASBYU President Grant Richards who said, "I met with the Director of the Health Center, Dr. Lloyd C. Hofheins, on Wednesday. My purpose in seeing him was to discuss the proposal of my office for such an advisory board.

"During the course of the meeting, it became evident that Dr. Hofheins was very enthusiastic about the proposal, and our conversation ended with an agreement that such a board would be established," the ASBYU President said.

VARSITY ALUMNI GAME

. . . The greats from BYU's past will meet the present Varsity football team at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. Tickets are now on sale for the event which will feature such BYU standouts as Virgil Carter and Phil Odle as well as more than 30 other ex-Cougars. The game is being sponsored by the Cougar Club. See story on page 4.

SONGLEADERS

. . . The songleaders, along with the flagtwirlers, will perform for Encore '68 Friday night at 7:30. The public is invited to the traditional event — no admission charge will be made.

Encore '68 To Exhibit Y's Top Entertainers

The year's top talent will return to the spotlight Friday night at "Encore '68."

Held annually in conjunction with Y Day, the program will feature many of the best-liked entertainers who have performed on campus during the school year.

Showtime for the Smith Fieldhouse production is 7:30 p.m. There will be no charge and the public is invited.

The third annual extravaganza will honor The Sounds of Freedom, BYU's well-known singing group, soon to perform at the Valley Music Hall and at "Hemisfair '68" in Texas

SULLIVAN SHOW

Organized less than two years ago, The Sounds of Fredom cast has presented shows throughout the West, sung on the Ed Sullivan show and has recorded an album currently being distributed nationally.

Other groups stepping into the "Encore '68" spotlight will be the BYU International Folk Dancers and Ballroom Dance team, Orchesis, Ray St. John Trio, song leaders and flag twirlers and the cast of the BYU Drama Dept. production of Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Individual performers participating will be Judy and Wendy Johnson, Jesse Evans Smith and pantomimist Ike Isaacson. The royalty for Homecoming, Winter Carnival and Belle of the Y will also be presented.

ELABORATE SET

Robert Sandstrom, "Encore '68" chairman, says that considerable effort is being put into construction of an elaborate set patterned after that of the Hollywood Palace television show.

Designed by Shelby R. Seem III, the black and red set will include chandeliers and 100 yards of red satin drapery.

Seem was responsible for the set used in the recent forum assembly by The Sounds of Freedom.

Humorist To Speak

Todays forum assembly will feature nationally known Dr. John Gillespie.

A distinguished educator whose hobby is writing humor and comedy, Dr. Gillespie is the head of the Massachusetts State College System.

Topics on which Dr. Gillespie frequently lectures includes: "Teaching Creativity," "Adolescencse to Obsolescencse—the life Cycle of a College Student," "How to be Obsolete on Graduation Day," and the "Three B's in Education—Baloney, Ballyhoo and Balderdash."

A question and answer period in the varsity theater will be held immediately following the assembly.

LOVE

Dear Embarrassed:

I too am sorry that we do not have more Polynesians here at BYU, they could teach us something about truly exhibiting love for our fellow man.

In answer to your question, "Why can't the popular show be truly Polynesian?" I must say that it was truly Polynesian.

I have yet to speak with someone who attended the assembly who did not feel and share for a brief moment the sweet spirit of love which is truly Polynesian.

Having spent two and a half years among the Polynesian people of the Cook Islands I must admit that I found myself unable to resist, as you say, the "temptation" of associating with them in their activities here at BYU.

Therefore, one of those "white" bodies you saw was mine, but I asure you, that day my heart was "truly Polynesian".

ZEAL AND FINESSE

Editor:

I couldn't help but smile when I read in Monday's Universe that Al Kemp intends to run the graduate class "with the same zeal and finesse with which I have always worked."

If Mr. Kemp's previous record is an indication, I assume this means that he will quit when the job becomes somewhat demanding. If you remember a couple of years ago, Mr. Kemp (in spite of his "zeal and finesse") resigned his position as ASBYU VP of Finance before his duties were completed.

HAPPY

Editor:

Happy day in Zion when all we have to do is sit around on our dead laurels and get picky about the name of a prom.

Great day for the perfected saint when he is translated in glory for being a serious minded "objector." For most "Dear Editor," not necessarily to be confused with the love lorn column of Dear Abby, writers offended, kindly accept my sincerest apology.

Prom was a lot of hard work and I wish you could have more enjoyed our extensive efforts to please the student body.

Prom was only a month ago, why now the big concern? Anyway it was only a dance, not a significant historical passing in great Mormon history.

But apparently "you" were there.

Come to think of it Glen Yarbrough wasn't British either, forgive me, Mr. Cluff and Mr. Sibley for ruining your illusions.

Glass Houses And Plaques

People are forever telling us we ought to mind our business and sometimes we feel a little guilty.

Take the other day, for example. We ran a picture of a plaque in the paper. We took the picture of the plaque on the third floor of the Administration Bldg. Someone said the picture was a waste of space in the paper.

It was a quote from the Doctrine and Covenants, 134:2. The reason we used the picture was to point out to the Administration that students ought to be able to govern themselves without having the Office of Standards meddling in their affairs.

Well, sir, would you believe that that plaque isn't a true reproduction of the message contained in the D and C? Someone who read the paper pointed that out to us.

The plaque says: "... to each individual the full exercise of conscience." And the D and C says: ". . . to each individual the free exercise of conscience."

Now I guess we shouldn't quibble about "free" and "full." But there is a difference and if the Office of Standards wants to investigate someone it ought to start on its own floor.

There's a leprechaun on the prowl someplace. j.s.

Kudos To Homecoming Group

The 1968 Homecoming committee is to be congratulated.

The committee is conducting a survey to determine which of nine available groups meets with the approval of the student body to be the entertainment for Homecoming '68.

For $5 a seat, students can hear Henry Mancini, Andy Williams, or Sammy Davis, Jr. $2.50 a seat will be the cost of Harry Belafonte, the Association or the Smothers Brothers. For $1.50 a seat, students can listen to The Supremes, Petula Clark or Brasil '66.

Other questions on the survey ballot include: "Would you like the concert and the dance on the same night?" and "Which night would you prefer the concert?"

Also included on the ballot will be a contest for a Homecoming '68 theme. The winner of the contest will receive free tickets to Homecoming events.

Balloting will take place Thursday and Friday on the West patio of the Wilkinson Center, in the Smith Family Living Center and in the McKay Bldg.

We commend the Homecoming Committee for its attitude towards the student body. In many cases, it would seem the representatives of the student body neglect their primary responsibility: to serve the wants and needs of the students who elected them.

This survey shows that this year the student officers and their staffs have decided to take to heart the interests of the student body.

We think that's a good sign. Keep it up. j.e.g.

Let's Do Our Share

Y Day at BYU has been a long standing tradition for students and faculty to get on their "grubbies" and do some spring cleaning on Provo's streets and parks, along with whitewashing the block letter "Y" on the mountain.

A few students have complained about the purpose of Y Day, such as the letter to the editor appearing on this page.

These irate people seem to be afraid to get their hands dirty, or figure Provo owes them everything and they in turn owe nothing to Provo. This parasitic attitude can be detrimental to any society.

The Daily Universe supports Y Day 100 per cent. Provo can use our help to clean things up. We use the parks and canyons at will for picnics and outings, so let's pitch in to spruce things up.

There's work to be done — and within a four-hour period Saturday Provo will have a new face.

Let's do our share. g.w.

Spring And Young Men's Thoughts

This is the time of year when young men's thoughts begin to turn to those things coeds have been thinking about all year long.

With the sun beating down its rays and summer coming on, why not have a good time, forget studies for awhile and get an early tan before going home for vacation?

After all, finals are still two weeks away.

Council Planned

power and duties of the board are as yet undefined. However, Dr. Hofheins indicated the board could attend meetings of department heads, and would have access to all information concerning the Center, its procedures and its policies.

"One of our aims for the year is to obtain student representation on as many academic and student service committees of the University as possible."

"We feel this will enhance better relations between students and the University," said Richards.

"We will need mature and capable students to serve on this board," Richards went on, "and my office will accept applications immediately."

Applications to serve on the board may be picked up at and returned to the office of the ASBYU President, 438 Wilkinson Center.

View Of Education Future Presented

Speaking at the second annual series of seminars Tuesday to improve the teaching methods of college faculty. Dr. Robert B. Howsam gave glimpses into the future of education.

The guest speaker, dean of the College of Education at the University of Houston, described the place of mass media in the education of the future as well as of instruction should prepare that improvement.

Dean Howsan stated that mass media "assists instruction, does not replace it." He further suggested that the university that wants to improve its methods of insruction should prepare that instruction in mass media form.

He said that in order to improve instruction universities need to modify procedures in terms of the maturity level of the students with whom they deal.

They must also concentrate on clear and implicit statements of objectives transferred into behavioral terms. Lack of concise objectives leads to a "beat-the-system attitude,"he stated.

The dean praised BYU for its efforts to improve levels of teaching methods and said "it is our responsibility to be as scholarly about how we teach as we are about other things."

He further stated that within universities "we must diffuse our own valid knowledge among ourselves."

French musical comedy at its height opens tonight in the De Jong Concert Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Offenbach's "La Perichole" is being presented by the BYU Opera Workshop. Dr. Don Earl will conduct the performance which includes a small orchestra. Brandt Curtis, music director, and Max Golightly, dramatic director, complete the production staff.

The comedy is a love story between Paquillo and his street-singer girlfriend, La Perichole. A Spanish nobleman, Don Andres, intercepts La Perichole's affection for a moment and Paquillo ends up in a prison for Recalcitrant Husbands—a valuable addition to any city. Complications increase until at last a happy ending is the only way out of the problem.

'Pikes Peak' Classic Beckons BYU Linksters

Coach Karl Tucker and the BYU golf team motor to Colorado Springs, Colo., this weekend for one of the most important tournaments on the Cougar schedule, the Pikes Peak Intercollegiate.

The importance lies in the fact that BYU has won the title for the past three years which ties Oklahoma State University and the University of Oklahoma for three outright titles.

Oklahoma State tied for a fourth title with Houston.

The Cougars want the distinction of winning the 54-hole tourney outright and four times in succession.

BYU won the title in 1967 by one stroke over Houston on some 18th hole heroics by BYU all-American John Miller. Miller was the medalist and Houston's Hal Underwood was runner-up. Underwood was first team all-America along with Miller last year and the two will meet head-on again at Pikes Peak.

ASU HOT

Arizona State has to be the hottest team coming into the tournament. The Sun Devils outclassed the field in the Cougar Classic last week at Provo and lost to Houston by one stroke in the Sun Devil Classic the week before. Prior to that ASU won the Fresno State Invitational over the best teams on the West Coast.

BYU will go with a team of veterans of the Pikes Peak play. Miller, along with Mike Taylor, Jack Chapman, Ron Janney and Lane Bennett have all played the tournament before. Freshman Don Hawken will be playing his first Pikes Peak competition.

NEW MEXICO STATE

Today BYU will play a dual match with New Mexico State on the Eisenhower Golf Course at the Air Force Academy. Miller will miss this match since he is in Northern California to receive the Northern California Amateur Golfer of the Year award. Freshman Mitch Voges will compete in the dual on Thursday. Miller will join the team in time for the tournament.

Canadian Pro Coaches Alumni

By Lynn Packham
Universe Sportswriter

Larry Anderson, a 30-year-old tackle from the western division of the Canadian Football League has been named Alumni team coach for this Saturday's Alumni-Varsity game

Anderson plays for the Calgary Stampeders, who have consistently been runners-up in the playoffs for the Canadian Great Cup. He has also been working off-season for several years toward a degree in physical education, with hopes of graduating this August. He signed with the Stampeders in 1961, after attending Boise College.

"I started playing football here at the 'Y' as a freshman," Anderson said. That was in 1959. During that season he played under Coach Hal Mitchel, who later moved up as head coach at BYU.

One of Anderson's teammates from that Kitten team will be a [illegible] back in the coming game—Phil Wright.

"We stand a good chance," Anderson commented. "The varsity is in better shape, but then we've got experience." (If that didn't sound like a generation gap .

As there was a question previously over whether or not Phil Odle would be playing, since he recently underwent an appendectomy, Anderson was happy to say that Odle will be suiting up to catch a few passes from Virgil Carter.

Intramural Track Crowns Winners

Individual winners in the Monday's intramural track meet have been announced.

John Crasso won the 100 and 220 yd. dashes in 10.5 and 23.4 seconds respectively. Darel Walker nabbed the 440 yd. dash while Pat Shane brought home the blue ribbon in the 880.

The mile run was won by Kent Stringham, DL-2 took the 880 yd. relay and Jin Tyrell nabbed the high hurdles title.

JV Nine Rides 16-Game Win Streak

A perfect 16-0 record will go on the line this weekend when the unbeaten Cougar JV baseball squad plays host to the Papooses from the University of Utah.

The Kittens will then travel to Cedar City for another twin bill on Saturday against the College of Southern Utah. Game time Friday will be at 1 p.m. on the Cat diamond.

The Kittens enhanced their unbeaten string last weekend when they pounded out 19 hits, including a three run homer in the second game off the bat of Justin Brink, while bombing Snow College 6-5 and 14-5.

In reeling off their spectacular string of victories the Kittens have compiled some prestigious statistics. In 16 games the team has a total of 140 hits and 104 runs which average out to 8.7 hits and 6.5 runs per game.

BY High Closes Doors With Student Banquet

The BYU lab school, BY High and Junior High will be holding its final banquet to honor students in grades seven through twelve.

Approximately 400 students will be participating in the banquet to be held today at 6:30 p.m. in the Wilkinson Center Main Ballroom.

This year will be the final year the Lab School will be in operation. It has functioned as a training ground for teachers and experimentation in education.

Professors To Tour Bible Land

The nickname "School of the Professors" already has been applied to a tour of Bible lands planned this summer by a group of professors.

The group, which will leave Salt Lake City by air June 4 and return Aug. 1, will include eleven professors of the BYU College of Religious Instruction, five teachers of LDS Institutes, and wives of ten of the faculty men.

In Athens the tourists will meet tour director, Dr. Daniel H. Ludlow, dean of the BYU College of Religious Instruction, who currently is heading a BYU Semester in Jerusalem. From there they will visit important sites of world and Biblical history in Turkey, Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, and Israel, and on the home trip in Italy, France, England and Scotland. They will spend 21 days in Israel.

Since most of them hold the doctor's degree, the tour will carry no credit but is conducted primarily as a research and fa tion project.
